

YEARLY MEETING DELEGATES GIVEN HEARTY WELCOME

Inspiring Message Delivered
By Rev. Mosher, General Superintendent.

PLAIN DRESS AND SPEECH NOT USED

Philadelphia Man To Speak
Thursday On Conditions In Europe.

A strong message on the subject, "The Holy Life," by Nettie Springer of Indianapolis, brought to a close the first day of the 11th annual session of the Ohio Yearly meeting of the Gurney Friends, which opened Tuesday in Columbus.

Rev. Merrill M. Coffin, recently pastored of the Salem Friends church, directed an inspiring song service and sang effectively as a solo, "Safe in the Cross."

Rev. John Riley, a minister from North Carolina, led in the devotional part of the service.

The opening sermon of the conference given by the general superintendent, Samuel J. Mosher of Cardington, lifted the large audience at once into a place of inspiration that marks the gathering as a place of spiritual fervor and uplift. The opening prayer of Rev. John Pennington contributed greatly to the same end.

Greetings From Delegates
Formal introductions with a brief word of greeting from each were received for Samuel P. Talbot and Nettie Riley of Western Yearly meeting in Indiana, S. Adelbert Wood, of Indiana Yearly meeting; Benjamin F. Andrews of Wilmington Yearly meeting in Southern Ohio; Walter R. Williams of Lohr, Ohio; China; Rachel Mostrom of New England Yearly meeting and Dr. Elizabeth Ward of Philadelphia.

A reception for visitors and especially the young people, of which there are a relatively large number in attendance, was given by the Christian Endeavorers of Damascus Quarterly meeting at Chambers' grove.

In the absence of the "mayor" of Damascus Fred Chambers welcomed the guests to the "city" and right humorously did he do the honors and warned of the dangers of failure to observe traffic laws and safety measures.

Good fellowship and Christian unity characterize the methods of business procedure among this religious group. Parliamentary usage is conspicuous for its absence and divisions are seldom called for by the presiding officer. Theoretically where the Quakers cannot go as a body no action is taken. Committees are appointed by members in the audience calling out the names of individuals they desire to have serve as a committee.

Plain Dress, Speech Gone
Plainness of dress and speech, as of the days of William Penn, no longer are in evidence at these annual gatherings. An evangelistic spirit and a missionary zeal are now the features that attract the attention of the casual observer.

Wilbur R. Thomas of Philadelphia will address the meeting Thursday morning on the subject of relief work in Europe. Able speakers from Cleveland Bible Institute will present the subject of education at the same session.

Missionary work among the American Indians and liquor law enforcement will claim the attention of the Yearly Meeting Thursday afternoon.

The annual missionary address will be given by Walter R. Williams at the evening session.

These articles can be taken by the boy if he so desires: Camera, flashlight, Scout ax, watch, signal flags, sneakers, jersey, musical instrument and compass.

SIMPLICITY IN HOMES ADVOCATED BY EXPERT

Apostle Of Better Homes Tells Chautauqua Gathering
How To Make Interior Attractive And Artistic.

"Hugs are for feet to walk upon. Avoid faces, beautiful flowers, graceful dogs, wild glowering animals, peaceful plenty scenes, reproductions of great paintings.

"Furniture should be appropriate for its real use. Well made, simple in line, without much decoration if in a grained wood.

"In pictures avoid white frames, brilliant gilt frames, cheap subject pictures, oval and diamond shape frames, and zig-zag arrangements in hanging."

These home hints are given by W. D. Campbell, "apostle of better homes" who gave a lecture demonstration on "Home—The Heart of Life," Tuesday afternoon at the Redpath chautauqua.

"I can make a room beautiful because I know a few simple rules of art," Mr. Campbell said. "Three, five, seven and eleven are the artistic numbers."

His lecture was intensely interesting and he gave some valuable hints to people who want to make their homes more artistic, both from the standpoint of combining tones and arrangement of furniture.

"Don't step pictures," he said. "Keep them on line either upper or lower.

He suggested putting the pictures of the family in the sleeping room, rather than the living room. He pointed out that pictures of this kind were close to the heart and in this room they could be seen the last thing at night and the first on waking, while the living room is more for general use.

Another of Campbell's "don'ts" is, "Don't put pictures on the piano, as it is for music and is a decorative spot." Mr. Campbell had a room arranged in a way that he termed "zig-zag" and then he rearranged it before the audience, bringing harmony of tone in the color scheme and grouping the furniture in what he called "artistic numbers."

These are among other hints given by Mr. Campbell:

"Wall papers are backgrounds and should be quiet in tone and color. Big spots or units in backgrounds 'force' themselves too much and are annoying and unrefined.

"Avoid fantastic curves in chairs, elaborate, artificially carved pianos, and highly polished tables and chairs for they will confuse your rest in tones if nothing else." Simplicity is Mr. Campbell's keynote.

MRS. COBB GRANTED DIVORCE; CHARGES ARE SENSATIONAL

Inhuman Treatment Charged
By Wife; All Property
Divided Equally.

Of interest to the residents of Columbiana and Mahoning counties is the decree of divorce granted in Youngstown Monday to Mrs. Josephine Cobb from Alva J. Cobb, prominent farmer of Mahoning county, near Salem.

Alva J. Cobb married Miss Josephine Strawn, June 27, 1895, and since that time they have resided in Mahoning county where the defendant owns considerable property.

Within a year after their marriage, according to the wife's petition, her husband became cruel to her and at frequent intervals she charged, subjected her to inhuman and barbarous treatment.

Interesting details were revealed in Mrs. Cobb's testimony through her attorneys, Metzger & McCarthy of Salem. The defendant was represented by the Hart & Koehler law firm of Alliance. She told of horrible treatment inflicted by her husband and stated that on numerous occasions she was either locked in the house where the temperature was near zero or that she was locked out of the house and forced to seek shelter in outbuildings or walk great distances to the home of friends or relatives.

Another startling feature of Mrs. Cobb's testimony was the inhuman treatment of the livestock owned by them. Cobb took especial delight in torturing his animals, particularly those Mrs. Cobb had extraordinary affection for, she charged. He on many occasions wounded these animals, blinded them or even killed them, using pitchforks or other weapons, her petition alleged.

The wife's petition shows that Cobb owns property estimated at approximately $50,000 and that he is owner of at least 200 shares of stock both common and preferred bringing him satisfactory returns. His property includes many acres of land in Mahoning county and property in Salem.

The court has ordered a settlement of property rights dividing such property equally between the plaintiff and defendant and that Mrs. Cobb be restored to her maiden name, Josephine Strawn. Alimony was settled out of court.

ROBS HIM OF WIFE SUES FOR $10,000

Willis Dyke Sues A. W. Crum
For Alienating His Wife's Affections.

Alleging that his wife's affections had been alienated, Willis B. Dyke, Middlefield township, has entered suit in court at Lisbon against Alton W. Crum for $10,000 damages.

The plaintiff in his petition states that Crum had deliberately made love to Mrs. Dyke and that he had persuaded her to leave him and go away from her home and that he has been deprived of her society and that it has caused him grief, worry and anxiety.

He says he has been damaged to the extent of the sum set forth above.

MONSTER MEETING PLANNED BY KLAN

Robed Knights Disregard
Steubenville Ban On Gatherings.

Steubenville, Aug. 22.—A monster state rally of the Ku Klux Klan will be held on leased farms west of Steubenville Sept. 28, officials of the Steubenville Klan stated today.

The Steubenville meeting will be held despite the action of city council in prohibiting public meetings or demonstrations that might lead to violence, they stated.

"No action that council may take will prevent our gathering at Steubenville on Sept. 28," a high Klan official stated. He added that many special trains will arrive here on that date from all points of Ohio and that the attendance will probably be 50,000 or 75,000.

Three farms about two miles west of Steubenville have been leased. Klan officials said, and plans are being made to park 5,000 automobiles near the scene of the meeting.

"We intend holding our meeting just the same as if nothing had happened in Steubenville," Klan officials stated today.

They added that there would be a parade in Steubenville and that permission would be asked of Gov. Vic Donahay.

CITY WITH-HOLDS ACCEPTANCE OF NEW ALLOTMENT

Company Hasn't Graded Its Streets, Councilmen
Are Advised.

MORE SIDEWALK
REPAIRS ORDERED

City Given Reduced Rate
Under New Three-year
Lighting Contract.

City council has no intention of accepting the allotment on the Tolerton farm until the streets have been put to grade and other improvements made.

That decision was repeated by council Tuesday night when D. L. Augustine, chairman of the streets, alleys and sidewalks committee, and Service Director J. B. Bristol reported that the allotment is not favorable for acceptance yet. They inspected the work at this allotment a few days ago and found that the streets had not been graded properly and that one street ended 150 feet from Newgarden st.

Bristol recommended that a grade be established before acceptance to prevent damage actions later. Councilman Charles Baker declared that all improvements, including sidewalks, graded streets and sewers, should be completed before the city accepts any allotment.

Augustine also advised grading Hogan's alley at present and the report was accepted.

Discussion of sidewalks brought the report of needed repairs to walks on the north side of Roosevelt ave. from Ellsworth ave. to Howard st. with the exception of the corner properties. Council directed that notices to repair be sent to the owners, together with owners of the properties on Main st. occupied by Cook's antique shop and Chisholm's news stand.

Council passed an ordinance authorizing the service director to enter into a contract with the Salem Lighting Co. to furnish power for street lights and to operate the waterworks equipment. The new contract effective from Aug. 28, 1923, to Sept. 7, 1925, calls for payment of 1.6 cents per kilowatt hour, a reduction from 1.8 cents now being paid.

President Coolidge is determined that there will be no suffering from lack of fuel, even if the warring groups in the anthracite industry fall together on a new wage scale within the next 10 days, and to this end the government today put the finishing touches on its plans to flood the anthracite consuming regions with bituminous coal, coke and other substitutes.

It was declared at the White House that the president was still hopeful that John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and E. D. Warriner, spokesman for the operators, would compose their differences satisfactorily so that production could be continued next month, but he has not yet decided whether anything could be gained by inviting them into a new conference in Washington or elsewhere.

NEW GRAND STAND ABOUT COMPLETED

Big Structure At County Fair Grounds Accommodates Many People.

Wednesday the roof of the new grandstand at the county fair grounds, built by the Lisbon Park & Amusement Co., was completed and workmen are now busy installing seats and putting the finishing touches to the work.

The structure is 240 feet long and 40 feet wide. In front of the grandstand and reached by four flights of steps is the paddock, which is eight feet wide and 250 feet long. This permits the real racing fan to get down on the level with the horses and walk about a bit, but a fence will keep him from the track proper.

There are two rest rooms one for women and the other for men. On top of the structure is a large band stand. In addition to this stand the seating capacity, which is over 2,000 persons, will be concrete bleachers, 60 feet long, containing room for 500 persons.

The Amusement company has secured the Famous Player orchestra of Youngstown to furnish music for the grandstand crowd during the coming fair.

Calls Auto Sale Bill
Confusing, Expensive

Columbus, Aug. 22.—Condemnation of the Ohio auto bill of sale law, as "confusing, complicated, unduly technical and expensive," is contained in a statement issued by Atty. E. J. Shover, general manager of the Ohio automotive trade association.

Shover recommends amendment or repeal of the present law, and the passage of another making the auto sale procedure apart of the registration of motor vehicles under the secretary of state.

Columbus, Aug. 22.—Gov. Donahay today announced the appointment of Atty. Edwin W. Diehl, Alliance, as common pleas judge, Stark county, succeeding Judge Harvey F. Ake, Canton, resigned. The appointment is effective Sept. 1.

Atty. Diehl was the Democratic candidate for the common pleas judgeship last year.

Canton, Aug. 22.—Lloyd Grant, 41, of Waterford O., died in a hospital here this morning from injuries received last night when he stepped from a moving automobile to get his hat which had blown off.

Grant, and his wife, Flossie, and a companion were riding with Clarence Allen, brother-in-law, near Wooster. Grant's hat blew off and he stepped to the road before the machine came to a stop. He was hurled to the bricks and later rushed to a hospital and died without regaining consciousness.

Asks Death Penalty

Columbus, Aug. 22.—Murder, committed in connection with a robbery should be punishable by death, without the jury being allowed the right to recommend mercy, if even-handed justice is to be done, Warden Thomas of the penitentiary told members of the Optimist club in an address here.

Notice in advance to gunmen that a killing done in the commission of a robbery starts them on a trip to the electric chair was advocated by the warden.

DOOR TO RENEWAL OF COAL PARLEY NOT YET CLOSED

While Miners Head Asserts
All Is Off, Operators
Call Break Recess.

COOLIDGE TO ACT
IF MINERS STRIKE

Walkout September First Is Only Alternative,
Lewis Says.

Atlantic City, Aug. 22.—The door to a resumption of the twice deadlocked coal conference remained open today.

While John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America reiterated that "all was off" as a result of the breaking up of yesterday's conference, Samuel D. Warriner, chairman of the anthracite operators committee, took the position that the break was, in reality, only a recess.

"I cannot believe the negotiations will end here," said Warriner.

The conference has been wrecked by wages. The miners had demanded a 20 per cent increase for contract miners and an increase of $2 for day labor. The operators refused this demand and offered arbitration, which the miners spurned.

A strike Sept. 1 was the only alternative, Lewis indicated and in a formal statement he promised the operators "the thrashing of their lives."

The operators this morning had not given up hope of resumption of negotiations.

Coolidge Promises Coal
Washington, Aug. 22.—While the United States coal commission was drafting a report today to let the public know who is responsible for the failure of the anthracite operators and miners to enter into a new wage agreement, official assurances came from the White House that the country was going to be supplied with all the fuel that it needed after Sept. 1, whether or not there was a strike in the hard coal fields.

President Coolidge is determined that there will be no suffering from lack of fuel, even if the warring groups in the anthracite industry fall together on a new wage scale within the next 10 days, and to this end the government today put the finishing touches on its plans to flood the anthracite consuming regions with bituminous coal, coke and other substitutes.

SITUATION QUIET DECLARES MAYOR

Things In Steubenville Not Half So Bad As Painted
Donahay Is Told.

Columbus, Aug. 22.—"Things are not half as bad in Steubenville as they have been painted," Mayor Frank Hawkins, of that city told Gov. Donahay during a short conference at the state house today.

Mayor Hawkins assured the governor that the tense situation growing out of the riot between Ku Klux Klansmen and citizens at Steubenville last Wednesday was "entirely quieted down" and that, with the organization of a vice squad and the addition of six patrolmen to the Steubenville police force, "any future trouble" can be handled.

Gov. Donahay told the mayor that he and other Steubenville authorities would be expected to maintain order. The governor expressed confidence that the local officials there could handle any situation that might arise.

"Every possible effort must be made by the local authorities before the state will ever take a hand," said the governor. "I feel sure there will be no need of state interference in Steubenville."

Mayor Hawkins returned to Steubenville immediately after his conference with the governor.

Barnes Wild Animal Circus Coming To Salem Aug. 31

Youngsters from 7 to 77 years of age are counting the days until Friday, Aug. 31, when the A. G. Barnes touring wild animal circus is coming to Salem with three train loads of elephants, lions, horses, camels and everything that goes to make up a real tented amusement enterprise.

The Barnes circus is the only real animal show in the world, according to Frank A. Cassidy, publicity representative, who was here Wednesday. It is a California institution and bills itself as "the show that's different," inasmuch as everyone of the 119 acts that make up the program has an animal background, it may truly be said to live up to its claims.

"Turko," billed the "the largest creature that walks the earth," is the biggest feature of the Barnes circus in every respect. "Turko" stands a foot taller than old "Jumbo" and weighs ten tons. A. G. ARNESON LECTURES
AT CHAUTAUQUA ON PURIFIED POLITICS

Need Of Statesmen Between Radicals And Conservatives Stressed.

Prof. Ben A. Arneson, Ph. D., head of the department of political science at Ohio Wesleyan university, lectured at the Redpath chautauqua platform Wednesday morning. His subject was "Purified Politics."

Prof. Arneson is one of the country's leading authorities on matters of politics and government, both national and international, and is constantly in demand as a lecturer. He is a member of the American Political association and was an instructor in the University of Wisconsin and also in the University of Minnesota before becoming the head of the political science department at Ohio Wesleyan.

In his lecture he deals with the contrast between the radical and the conservative elements in present day American politics and stresses the need of statesmen who are not only experts in their line but who take up a position in the middle ground between these two conflicting factions.

He also discusses the need of progressive internationalism and the cultivation of better relationships between nations.

Prof. Arneson is an interesting and a vivid speaker and through all his discussions of political matters there runs a vein of humor that captivates every audience. At the end of his lecture he conducts an open forum, a feature which has proved quite attractive wherever he has introduced it.

Willite Is Excluded From Specifications Despite Orders.

PAVING OF THREE STREETS ORDERED

Residents Of Lincoln Ave.
Caution Against Any More Delays.

Lincoln ave. will be resurfaced and Washington and Sharp sts paved before winter unless contractors or bad weather hold up the projects.

Ordinances determining to proceed with the improvement of these streets were passed by city council Tuesday night, but not until councilmen had expressed their indignation in no uncertain terms over the fact that Willite had not been included in the specifications for bids for resurfacing Lincoln ave.

A preference for Willite had been expressed by Lincoln ave. residents who petitioned for the resurfacing of the street; and council had ordered that the Willite company be given a chance to bid. And council would have demanded an amendment to the ordinance had not a Lincoln ave. delegation urged that no more delay be permitted in starting the work.

Accordingly the Lincoln ave. ordinance passed by council specifies a two-inch surface of asphaltic concrete on the present pavement. Preparation for the opening of bids on the three streets will be completed by Oct. 1.

The discussion opened when F. R. Pow declared that Lincoln ave. residents do not want the work delayed any longer. He said they favored the Willite method but did not want a postponement until next year.

"A Screw Loose Somewhere"
Frank Swaney, representing the Willite Co., said his company could not bid under the specifications and City Solicitor L. B. Harris announced that an amendment to the ordinance would cause a delay of four to six weeks.

Councilman D. U. Smith called attention to the Lincoln ave. petition favoring Willite and asserted that council had instructed the engineer to prepare bids accordingly. "There should have been no delay. There's a screw loose somewhere," Smith added.

"Council definitely decided to include Willite and when it was specified why wasn't it inserted in the specifications," Councilman F. J. Eckstein demanded. "We argued the point pro and con and definitely decided on Willite and I can't see why it was not included."

Solicitor Harris had explained that he, the service director and the engineer had thought Willite was included in asphaltic concrete specifications but Frank Swaney announced that such specifications barred Willite from bidding.

"The streets, alley and sidewalks committee recommended and every councilman has voted to put Willite through," put in Councilman D. L. Augustine. "It's no fault of council that one of these streets is held up all summer."

"Washington st. paving was started last February and it is not as far along as Lincoln ave. I don't know why. Sewers have been hanging fire two years. I don't know why. It appears there isn't a street or sewer ready for estimates. I think you should have what you want," he added, addressing his remarks to the visitors.

F. F. Trimble told council that delays are dangerous, especially on this street, and that there should be no quibbling over a small matter. He (Continued on second page.)

Co-Operative Marketing

The late President Harding was strongly in favor of the co-operative movement among farmers, and the Department of Agriculture regards such co-operative activity as among the most important developments in agricultural life.

This policy seems to be business-like and sensible, at least to the average student of economics. Properly organized and conducted, nothing could defeat the successful working of such plan.

It is estimated that already more than a million farmers have joined these co-operative organizations. This means something. As numbers go, a million represents but a small proportion of the farming population; but if results are happy—as they are said to be—when a million farmers are profiting regularly, and above the average, their formula soon must appeal to and be adopted by all farmers.

President Harding desired this consummation. He preached this doctrine to the agricultural populations whenever he had opportunity.

Among these progressive co-operative organizations is an Ohio unit which has a membership of 11,000. During the past year it sold 311,700,000 pounds of milk.

The tobacco growers have a large and efficient organization. The fruit growers in many states have developed the plan. The poultry raisers are strong in some sections. Fifty-nine colleges and universities now are giving instruction in co-operative and other courses devoted to farm economics and management.

It is this sort of progressive business method that should put the Magnus Johnsons, the Ladys, the Shipsteads and the rest of the farmer's friends out of the business of agitation and wildcat theorizing. What should be possible in the development of such association is indicated in the plans of the Michigan Fruit Growers' association—a plan applicable to any branch of farm production, to-wit:

To develop an efficient and economical system of selling and distributing fruit; to collect and disseminate information on crop and market conditions; to establish uniform grades and standards; to strive to increase consumer demand; to assist in building warehouses and packing plants; and to foster ways and means for the utilization through by-products of waste and surplus fruit.

That's business. It will beat all political panaceas which the congressional doctors have to offer to the farmer.

thought the Willits company should have a chance to bid, but he said the residents don't want the paving held up four or six weeks.

After Mr. Pow had again stated that the residents want Willits but feel that it is a grave mistake to delay because the street is in such bad condition, Mr. Swaney assured council that, getting the contract as late as Nov. 1, Willits would be completed by Dec. 31.

W. H. Dunn also advised against delay, even at the exclusion of Willits, but Councilman Eckstein insisted that the petition, which specified Willits, should be rescinded if Lincoln is not used, as two-thirds of the Lincoln ave. property owners are still on record as desiring it.

Vote To Rush Work

In view of the insistence on early action, Councilman John Stratton moved that the solicitor rush the work under the present ordinance get the work started by Oct. 1. Councilman Augustine's demand for a motion was passed with an amendment to include Washington and Sharp and to make things a little more interesting, Councilman Stratton demanded to know what had become of the Summit st sewer legislation. The city solicitor advised him that he had been held up until others are ready. bonds in a lot and the sewer bids had been waiting to sell all improvement. Council then passed the ordinances determining to proceed with the improvement of the three streets.

That Body of Yours

THE MORPHINE HABIT

No one will attempt to deny that addiction to morphine is one of the most serious of diseases. You have seen at least one of these victims at some time, and the heart-rending sight of a blasted life has likely made its impression upon you.

How does it get its hold on its victims?

It sometimes is the result of the careless use of paregoric or laudanum to pacify young children.

Fortunately mothers are learning more about these things, and this cause is certainly decreasing.

It may be due to the thoughtless treatment by the medical profession. That it may be necessary in emergencies is admitted, but the patient should never know just what he is getting. There are other pain relievers, and a systematic change of preparations will avert this terrible habit.

However, physicians and welfare workers now generally agree that it is a disease and the cure, thought, and medication you give. Other diseases are merited by the drug addict.

Why does he take it anyway?

Well he may be feeling blue and may be in severe pain. He injects the dose into his body and immediately he is a changed man. He becomes energetic, almost brilliant in his talk, and has a feeling of buoyancy and well being. He then calms down into a quiet contentment with himself and the world.

This is shortly followed by the third stage when he is in a "dopey" drowsy condition; followed by complete unconsciousness. He later awakes in a most wretched pitiable condition. He trembles like a leaf and his expression is one of most intense uneasiness and restlessness. He must then secure another dose to relieve him from this fearful depression.

Fortunately they can now cure these cases. Institutions, yes common jails, are doing good work in getting these unfortunates back to health.

What is the method?

Just good hard common sense when you study it out.

The first idea is to drive the drug from his system, and so good colored ranges followed by castor oil is the treatment the first few days. To take the place of all this loss of liquid, and to keep the blood vessels filled, two or three quarts of salt solution are injected into his vessels.

Of course he is in a desperate condition in his desire for the drug; and so he is given other less harmful drugs to keep him quiet for the first few days.

This is the success or keynote of the treatment. It is like giving an anesthetic for a surgical operation.

Able Cast Offers 'Turn To Right' In Chautauqua Tent

A mother's devotion, sweethearts, peach preserves, and crocks were the embodiments for the foundation of a most entertaining comedy-drama, "Turn to the Right," presented by Redpath's chautauqua cast, at the show grounds in South Lundy st. Tuesday night.

This production held the closest attention of the large audience and especially fine was the acting of Raymond Pawlins, leading man, his two "girl" pals, acted by Frederick Roland and Theodore Doucet, the mother, played by Mrs. Frank J. Fryane, and Sam Martin, a friend of the family, played by Thomas Manning.

The Misses Beverly West, Helen Payne and Peggy Boland and Allen Lee were highly capable of upholding their roles. The story opened with a scene showing Joe Bascom being released from Sing Sing prison. He claims to be innocent and will take the first turn to the right and is going straight. He bids them a touching adieu and departs for his mother's home in the country his companions not knowing his true identity.

After a joyous homecoming a peculiar turn of fate lands his former buddies at his mother's door. They cooperate with Joe in keeping his imprisonment a secret from Mrs. Bascom and Joe's sister.

Learning that his mother is about to be cheated out of her farm and home by the scheming Deacon Tillinger to whom Mrs. Bascom is indebted for a small amount of money, Joe is at a loss for a way to prevent such a calamity. Nothing lacking in wit and courage on the part of his two friends, they "lift" a sufficient sum from the "Deacon" which they give to Joe with which to meet his mother's debt.

From this point on the action is swift and ends happily for all concerned. Joe, whose innocence is proven, in the end marrying his childhood sweetheart, the Deacon's daughter, Elsie, and his pals entering matrimony with Joe's sister and her friend, "Jessie Strong."

By the cleverness of Sam Martin, the family becomes wealthy and incidentally the "Deacon" reconciles himself to the conditions as they are.

BARNES WILD ANIMAL

"Alice in Jangleland" is the colorful title given to the spectacle that will open both performances of the Barnes circus here. Four prima donnas, a singing and dancing chorus of California beauties, hundreds of people and almost countless animals make this the most elaborate extravaganza ever offered under a circus tent, the Barnes press agent declares.

Scores of fierce jungle-bred lions, tigers and leopards are exhibited in steel arenas by fearless trainers, most of whom are women, while novelty acts are offered by trained reindeer, rabbits, eagles, ostriches, kangaroos, llamas and opakis. Nearly every known variety of beasts is found in the Barnes million dollar menagerie.

"Sixty dancing horses and 60 dancing girls" form one of the most attractive of the big show acts and the Barnes collection of high school horses are said to be in a class by itself. In all, 550 horses are to be found in the Barnes stables.

Johann Aussen, the Norwegian giant who stands eight feet, nine inches tall, is one of the premier attractions, while a contrast is offered by 15 Lilliputians, ranging in size from 20 to 30 inches, imported from Europe especially for the extravaganza.

"Alice in Jangleland."

A two-mile long street parade is scheduled for the forenoon of circus day, and the press agent promises that all the cages will be open so that spectators may obtain an unobstructed view of the 1200 animals carried by the Barnes circus. Six bands, three calliopes and 65 clowns will enliven the line of march.

MEN MUST DEVOTE TIME TO MOULDING BOY LIFE HE SAYS

Dr. Hurt Gives Fine Talk To Rotary And Kiwanis Club Members.

Rotary and Kiwanis club members and Boy Scout leaders in Salem, meeting at a luncheon in the Ebs home Wednesday noon, heard an inspiring address on the Scout movement delivered by Dr. Hubert W. Hurt of Chicago, Chautauque lecturer and former Scout executive of the Chicago council.

Dr. Hurt emphasized the tremendous possibilities for good embodied in such organizations as Rotary and Kiwanis and kindred organizations, declaring that the crying need of the present generation was for reliability and dependability—a strengthening of moral fibre.

The speaker referred to the wonderful agency which such clubs afforded as a means of developing and cultivating these qualities in the boyhood of this day and age.

Pointing out that the really serious hazard in the life of the growing boy is his leisure time, estimated to be approximately one-third of his time, the speaker stated that the price of influence in a boy's life is companionship, and that if the men of today desire to so mould and shape the growing, developing ideals of youth that in manhood the rugged qualities of honesty, integrity and responsibility will be characteristic, the men of today must devote some little of their time to associating and mingling with the present generation of boys and instill in them some of the ideals, civic pride and virtues of the big, strong and reliable men of the community.

He closed with an eloquent appeal for the co-operation of the leaders of the community in the Boy Scout movement, and characterized such co-operation as the best possible investment which the community could make to insure dividends in dependability, reliability and moral tone during the next 20 years.

Scout Commissioner Lee Chamberlain briefly introduced E. C. Jones, president of the Sharon (Pa.) Kiwanis club who gave a brief outline of what the Sharon Kiwanis club has accomplished in assisting the Boy Scout movement in Sharon.

In closing the luncheon, Mr. Chamberlain referred to the history of the Boy Scout movement in Salem, and called attention to the first Boy Scout camp which is to be held at the Scout reservation during the first week in September. He especially extended an invitation to all persons interested to visit the camp on the visiting days, Sept. 2, 3, and 6.

He also extended the thanks of the local Scout Council to the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs for their assistance to the movement locally in the past, and for their co-operation in arranging the luncheon to Dr. Hurt.

Following the luncheon, Mr. Chamberlain and several members of the Salem Scout Council, with interested citizens, held a conference on local scouting problems.

An intoxicated man was ejected from a downtown motion picture show. The manager accompanied him to the door.

COAST TO COAST AIR MAIL TESTS PROVING SUCCESS

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 22.—With an overcast sky and light rain falling, air mail pilot, H. G. Boonstra, hopped off here at 5 a. m. Mountain Standard time for Rock Springs, Wyo., in the air mail services westbound 25 hour coast to coast test. He was approximately 35 minutes late.

Pilot Jack Knight who arrived here at 2:30 a. m. Mountain Standard time deemed it inadvisable to continue the flight due to rain and mist until daylight. Upon his arrival Pilot Knight was one hour and twenty minutes ahead of his schedule.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Westbound, the first coast to coast 28 hour air mail plane was ahead of scheduled time at Omaha and was expected to wing into Cheyenne this morning and out to Reno on time.

East bound there was a 40-mile break in the chain when Pilot Colleson became fogbound at Laramie, Wyo., and Frank Yager, the next relief pilot, was ordered to take up the night flying from Cheyenne so that the east and westward night tests might be completed.

Col. Paul Henderson, second assistant postmaster general in charge of air mail transportation, was at Omaha to greet Pilot Dean Smith on the first westward night flight.

"The flight from Chicago to Omaha was particularly good," Col. Henderson said. "Pilot Dean Smith reported that the fliers set out across the plains to guide the flyers have shown up wonderfully."

was lighted by huge beacons. Government air mail landing fields had 30 18-inch searchlights set to revolve completely around the horizon every three minutes.

These east beams of 450,000,000 candle power 150 miles into the darkness. At 34 intermediate points in the night flight, 18-inch searchlights threw 5,000,000 candlepower beams around the horizon every ten seconds. Every three miles was a 3,000 candlepower acetylene flare.

"Except for the fog at Laramie resulting in delay to the eastbound mail," Col. Henderson said, "the tests have been a success in every way. The planes are making excellent time."

BIG OPIUM CACHE REVEALED IN RAID

Four Chinamen Arrested As Officers Seize $20,000 Worth Of Drugs.

Cleveland, Aug. 22.—Four men, Wu Hah and Chan Lee, of Akron; Jim Long, of Chicago and Yee Webb, of Cleveland, are under arrest here today and will be arraigned on charges of violating the Harrison narcotic act as a result of a raid staged by the federal narcotic squad early this morning on an alleged opium den at 1235 Ontario st.

The raiders, led by Chief Narcotic Agent Ralph H. Oyler, of the Michigan-Ohio district, seized $20,000 worth of opium and similar drugs, according to Chief Oyler. The doors, which were barricaded, were broken down with axes.

Examinations of a number of packages of cigarettes seized in the raid revealed that about 10 cigarettes in each package contained small lumps of cooked opium. The opium had been concealed in this manner to facilitate transportation, Oyler said.

END OF EUROPE'S FINANCIAL ILLS PREDICTED SOON

Basis For Adjustment Of War Debts Expected To Be Reached.

Washington, Aug. 22.—A basis for adjustment of war debts due the United States by France and smaller European countries will be reached this fall, administration officials predicted today. The government now has a more optimistic view not only of the ability of France and other countries to liquidate their debts, but is confident that a way soon will be opened for settlement of the reparations problem.

The deadlock over reparations is expected to be broken before winter, and this adjustment, officials believe, will clear up most of Europe's financial troubles.

A hopeful forecast of Europe's economic situation is formed from the impressions gathered by government officials of high rank who have just returned from Europe. These views are now before the president and his cabinet. They provide foundation for the administration's confidence that European debtors will pay the United States in full. There is strong belief that Great Britain and France will have the way to stabilization.

At the Treasury department, officials said that the American debt-funding commission has made no plan to resume debt discussions with France or other nations involved until further definite advice comes from the debtor nations with which the negotiations were begun some months ago. Officials say delay is not an unfavorable factor in the debt situation. The situation in France reflects speedy industrial recovery, observers reported. Many French cities ruined by the war now resemble boom towns of the west in their race to rebuild and get upon a more solid industrial footing. France is fully employed and prosperous. Even in Germany the productive capacity is said to be larger than before the war.

Beloit Barn Burns, Fighters Given Aid

Sebring's volunteer fire fighters responded to a call at Beloit about 7 p. m. Monday when the barn of Charles Shreve caught fire from spontaneous combustion.

One company from Central station at Alliance also responded when it became evident that the chemical supplies of the Sebring and Beloit departments would prove inadequate to extinguish the blaze.

Lack of water hindered the fire fighters in their work. Bucket brigades secured water from a nearby well and creek, but the supply was insufficient for using the pumps.

The hay in the barn loft was saved but was damaged by water.

Tired all the time;

Back aches; head aches;
Your kidneys are probably weakened.

You should help them at their work.
Let one who knows tell you how.

Mrs. Clara McKinzie, 16 West High st., Salem, says: "Several years ago my kidneys weren't acting right and had me feeling out of sorts and sick all over. I was tired and nervous and felt languid all the time. My housework was too much for me. Occasionally, sharp twinges caught me in the small of my back and I got dizzy spells. I felt this way for a time until I started taking Doan's Kidney Pills which members of my family recommended. I had relief from the pains and my kidneys started acting naturally again. I keep Doan's on hand and use them whenever occasion arises." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. McKinzie had. "My Rheumatism is gone -"

"THERE are thousands of you men and women, just like I once was—slaves to rheumatism, muscle pains, joint pains, and horrible stiffness. I had the wrong idea about rheumatism for years. I didn't realize that increasing blood-cells had the effect of completely knocking out rheumatic impurities from the system. That is why I began using S.S.S. Today I have the strength I used to have years ago! I don't use my crutches any more." S.S.S. makes people talk about themselves the way it builds up their strength. Start S.S.S. today for that rheumatism. You'll feel the difference shortly.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

FRANCE STANDING PAT ON DEMANDS

Paris, Aug. 22.—France is standing pat upon her reparations demands. It was revealed today when the foreign office officially published the note sent to London last night in reply to the British reparations communication of Aug. 12.

It is a 50-page document "laying all France's cards on the table," and answering the British document point by point.

For the first time France officially sets forth 26,000,000,000 gold marks as her minimum demand from Germany, plus sufficient credits from class "C" reparations bonds to pay any war debts claimed by France's allies.

Says Boy Not Responsible
Editor of News:

After reading last night's paper, I would like a few lines published in regards to Walter's behavior. Since he came home, that boy has tried every way in the world to do right. He was out only one night since he has been at home and at that time he was with two well to do boys. Went to the show with them and came home with them, never left them once.

Now I have proof of this and on that date one of your robberies occurred. My little son, Raymond slept with Walter and his door was left open which I seen several times he was sound asleep. I will say Walter does plenty, it is sure, but please will you give him credit for things he don't do, and blame all on him. I know well what he has done. Who did the robberies when my boy was locked up?

Again come to me, Mr. Officer, I'll show some proof you think I have not gotten. Come here and I'll give you some information.

Saturday night Walter was home in bed at 9 o'clock. I have proof for that. One robbery occurred at that time. Who did all? Get busy, Mr. Policeman and you'll get some of the right ones besides Walter Evans.

Walter never told you or no one else he stole that watch from Canadine. That has to be told yet. I know Walter takes delusions, can't you see it? I guess you have had plenty of time. Now instead of putting him behind the bars, see if there isn't something can be done to help that boy and perhaps Walter's name will be kept quiet and some of the other scoundrels will get it. I know Walter takes delusions, can't mother. I know his troubles, you don't and again there is some spite work in this. Don't put the rope, ready to hang to scare him. He is not responsible for what he does.

The Court Sees Its Public Duty

"How good is your eyesight?" snapped the opposing lawyer, unexpectedly.

"Never had the least trouble with it," boasted the plaintiff, Jackson.

His suit for damages had been as good as won. The evidence had shown that he was driving carefully—under 20 miles an hour—and the other car coming out of a side street, must have been going at an excessive rate of speed, or Jackson would have seen it sooner.

Judge and jury were favorably impressed. But then came the question: Are you willing to have your eyes examined here and let us read the results in court?

"Of course I am," he laughed.
The test revealed 40% of normal yet for nine years he had been driving a high powered car through the streets we all must use.

Make sure that the eyes behind the steering wheel are seeing all—not one-half or one-third of the road.

Have your eyes examined today.
